

ANXIETY OVER MANILA NEWS

Situation in Philippines is Giving War Department Concern.

REBELS GROW BOLD

Advices from Samar, Leyte and Luzon, Show Growing Spirit of Insurrection.

WANT MORE TROOPS

Washington, Oct. 24.—The situation in the Philippines is again giving the war department great concern. The news from Samar, Leyte and Luzon is of a disquieting nature and shows that the spirit of insurrection is by no means dead. The consensus of opinion is that a large force will be needed for some time in the Philippines and that work cut out for the American troops of even greater magnitude than was generally credited.

Troops to the Front
Manila, Oct. 24.—Owing to the typhoon having blown down the telegraph wires only one cable message and mail advice have been received from the island of Samar for three days. Admiral Rogers has received a report by gunboat. He has notified the troops at the ports to be on their guard, owing to the surprise and massacre of the company of the Ninth regiment at Balangiga.

At Pambujan, Samar, all the buildings in the vicinity of the barracks were immediately razed. General Smith, on his arrival at Calbayoga, Samar, sent reinforcements to Weyler. They found the garrison of that place, numbering fifteen men, besieged by over 100 bolomen.

The United States transport Summer will leave here today with 350 men of the Twelfth infantry. The cruiser New York left Manila last night with 330 marines under Major Waller.

There are 2,600 troops in Samar. General Chaffee does not anticipate any further disasters. He considers that there is no cause for alarm. The garrisons, he says, have been increased and every precaution has been taken to prevent another surprise like the one at Balangiga. Agitators, however, have been endeavoring to inflame many communities throughout the archipelago by giving glowing accounts of the occurrences in Samar.

The central Filipino committee has issued a proclamation confirming Malvar as the successor of Aguinaldo.

INDUSTRIAL SHOW FOR WISCONSIN; COMBINE STATE FAIR AND CARNIVAL

The Affair is To Last One Month—Enterprising Business Men Are Behind the Proposition.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 24.—Since the exposition failed to pay expenses this season and the state fair was a failure on account of the rainy weather, and there seemed to be a decline in the stock of the carnival association, men interested in all three of the enterprises will be inclined to listen to a proposition made today by Vice President A. C. Clas of the Carnival association, which is, in brief, that the whole state participate in giving, in Milwaukee, the greatest industrial show in the history of Wisconsin.

His idea is to have a monster combination affair, getting together all of the industries of the state in a great exhibit of the state's resources, and to combine with that a week of carnival fun. This would necessitate the co-operation of the merchants and manufacturers' association, the Citizens' Business league, the chamber of commerce, the bankers, the brewers, together with the carnival association, the state fair, and the exposition officials, also the manufacturers and business men of the state. Mr. Clas says: "I would have the exhibition last for a month, but the carnival only a week. The exposition, state fair grounds, and especially built barracks could be erected to exhibit the manufacturers and other

SUMMER SCHOOL MAY BE CHANGED

Milwaukee May Be Chosen for Next Meeting Place—Election of Officers Last Night.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 24.—Milwaukee may be chosen as the next meeting place of the Catholic summer school of America. Dubuque and Milwaukee are the only two cities considered as being in the race for the meeting and Milwaukee is a slight favorite over the Iowa city. The final selection will be made in November. Secretary John A. Hartigan said today that he felt confident that a majority of the directors who are in session here were in favor of Milwaukee.

The report of the various officers read at the directors' and stockholders' meeting last night showed the organization to be in good condition.

The directors elected officers as follows: President, the Rev. P. Danchy of St. Paul, to take place of the Right Rev. S. C. Messmer, who declined re-election owing to other work; first vice president, re-elected the Rev. William J. Dalton of Kansas City; second vice president, M. J. Wade of Iowa City, Ia.; secretary, re-elected John A. Hartigan, of St. Paul; treasurer, Lawrence D. Murphy of Madison. The following were re-elected as directors: The Right Rev. S. G. Messmer of Green Bay, the Rev. J. M. Naughton of Madison and M. J. Wade of Iowa City.

MONTICELLO IS IN GREAT EXCITEMENT

Indignant Citizens Threaten Summary Punishment—Physician Accused of Practicing Hypnotism.

Monroe, Wis., Oct. 24.—The little town of Monticello, Green county, is in a state of great excitement over the threatened mobbing yesterday of a business man of the place.

A young and popular physician, who has been practicing about two years, is accused by the wife of a well-known resident of having hypnotized her and then taking advantage of her helpless condition.

As a consequence of this affair a large number of people got together in Monticello and threatened to tar, feather and ride the doctor on a rail. The local marshal, John Zweifel, becoming alarmed at the demonstration telephoned to the sheriff at this place for assistance. The doctor took refuge in the postoffice and added his appeal to that of the marshal for additional protection.

The matter was referred to District Attorney Sherron, who sent instructions to the marshal to call upon and demand the assistance of law-abiding citizens to prevent assault and mobbing of the beleaguered doctor. The matter was immediately made public and the admonition of the district attorney was heeded. Marshal Zweifel, the doctor and his wife went to their homes.

BOTH BODIES FOUND IN THE RIVER; TRAGIC DISCOVERY ENDS SEARCH

Mrs. Buttles Found in the Milwaukee River with Her Boy in Her Arms—Husband and Friends Scoured Woods Hoping to Find Them Alive.

Milwaukee, Oct. 24.—Holding her son tightly in her arms, the bodies of Mrs. Cephas Buttles and her 5-year-old son Robert, who have been missing since Monday noon, were found in the Milwaukee river, half a mile north of Humboldt avenue bridge, at 12:30 o'clock this morning. The bodies were found by a searching party consisting of members of the Wisconsin consistory, who were in session last night when news was received that the woman had been seen in the neighborhood earlier in the evening. The Masons adjourned to search for the missing woman and her child and after hours of scouring the woods in the vicinity, they found the bodies.

Mrs. Buttles three years ago ran away and remained three days in the same vicinity before found. She did this to escape from an attendant who watched her because her mind was said to be unbalanced. She wanted to have this restraint thrown off. She protested that she was capable of caring for herself, and in the cunning way of a demented person watched her chance to escape again.

Monday afternoon she left her home and was seen down town. She said she was not going to be watched. For three days she wandered through the country north and west of Milwaukee, being seen here and there, but at last, yesterday afternoon or in the early evening, she must have concluded that she would be found soon, because starvation was staring her in the face.

Rather than return to what her weakened mind considered distasteful confinement she took her little son to the water's edge and, deliberately clasping him to her bosom, lay down and died in the cold waters of the Milwaukee river, just in time to prevent her safe return to Milwaukee by the searching party that went for her.

The whole detective force of the Central Police station, Cephas Buttles several friends and many Masonic brothers, making a party of forty or fifty, beat through ten square miles of woods and brush from 6 o'clock last night until early this morning searching for Mrs. Buttles and her son.

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 24.—Mme. Calve, the opera singer of the Maurice Grau company, refused to appear in "Carmen" here last night, where the company played to a $15,000 house. In consequence Manager Grau forfeited $2,000 to the Philharmonic society.

The Louisville grand opera audience was cold and unresponsive. Calve did not receive an encore. She did not like the zero treatment, and declared she would not sing in Nashville, Memphis or Atlanta, according to a story from the inside.

Five thousand people crowded the house tonight and were disappointed. The work of a substitute was good enough, but they had dreamed of seeing Calve. It is said that Calve suffered from a cold.

FOUND COPPER NEAR LA CROSSE

A Large Deposit Which is Said To Be Very Valuable, Found by a Prospector.

La Crosse, Wis., Oct. 24.—Herman Schultz, an old miner who for many years has been prospecting in the hills near this city, has found a valuable copper deposit. A shaft was sunk and at twenty feet a ledge was struck which contained a large percentage of copper and some silver. The shaft was put down ten feet deeper and a rich find of copper was made. Five pounds of rock on analysis showed three ounces of copper. Schultz believes that he has struck something big. The find was made in Gilmore's valley, and several La Crosse capitalists declare that if further tests prove the quality of the ore a company will be organized for the purpose of developing the property.

SCHLEY COOL AND SELF-POSSESSED

Admiral Told His Story of the Battle of Santiago to Inquiry Court Today.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 24.—In anticipation of Admiral Schley's appearance on the witness stand this morning there was a tremendous crush in the court room. Lieut. Wells, Schley's flag secretary, was the first witness. Lemly sought to introduce a report to the department written by Wells at Schley's dictation but which was never forwarded to Washington. Dewey refused to permit it to be introduced as evidence.

Maj. Murphy was recalled. He testified that at the time of the Colonel's surrender Schley addressed his men, commanding them not to cheer when the captain of the Colon came aboard. He said the Spaniards had made a good fight and were gallant men and should not be humiliated. He made about the same address that evening when the Brooklyn came along side of the Iowa, where Cervera was. Murphy said Cervera heard the speech and was very much affected by it and appreciated it.

Lieut. Harlow of the Vixen then resumed the stand. He said that Schley looked worried on the morning of the bombardment May 31 but denied that he commode was nervous or excited.

Captain Clark, who commanded the Oregon during the war took the stand at noon. He gave an account of the battle, but added nothing new to the testimony.

Schley went on the stand at two o'clock. When his name was called there was a decided murmur in the court room. The admiral was cool and collected on the stand. He was serious in his manner but absolutely self-possessed. He proceeded to give in a narrative form his experiences with the flying squadron.

OLDEST ODD FELLOW

ROOSEVELT ASSISTS A FARMER BY DRIVING IN A HERD OF COWS

President of the United States Enjoys Himself at Farmington, Conn., to Surprise of Deacon Barber.

Farmington, Conn., Oct. 24.—In years to come Deacon Barber, having recovered from palpitation of the heart threatening him a few hours ago, will live simply to tell how on one occasion a president of the United States helped him to round up a straying herd of cows, and refused a drink of cider in payment.

President Roosevelt's sister, Mrs. Cowles lives at this place, and the president, with several friends, was here yesterday enjoying himself with Mrs. Cowles. The party was on a jaunt driving up Tuxis mountain. The president, as everyone who knows him will realize, suggested that he wanted to get out and walk awhile and he did.

Up the road a piece President Roosevelt who was straightening the kinks out of his legs and taking long breaths of air down into his lungs came upon a much perturbed individual. He was lopping around a field, apparently wiggling with the arms to a bunch of milk cows.

President Roosevelt looked over the fence a bit and failing to discern the game shouted, pleasantly:

The special state levy tax, which was made Monday, but owing to clerical work not made public until today is for the following purposes:

Common schools, one mill tax... $1,136,284
Normal schools... 215,000
University... 228,000
High schools... 100,000
Graded schools... 20,000
Interest on indebtedness... 157,570

Total... $2,257,054

Of the school district loans the principal to be collected is $91,106.97, and the interest is $16,174.76, making a total of $107,281.73.

Of the special loans, $140,898.02 of the principal is to be collected, and the interest will amount to $44,016.70, the total being $184,914.72.

All of these assessments will be certified to the county clerks within a few days, and will be added to the local levies for collection this year. The taxes will be turned over to the state treasurer next February.

A great portion of this money will be returned to the various counties for the maintenance of public schools and insane asylums.

Figures heretofore published on the general tax levy for this year were not official, and consequently were more or less incorrect. Though the levy should have been made last Monday, the force in the secretary of state's office was unable to complete the figures until today. The rate this year is .00157201 per cent, as against .002158254 last year, the decrease being due to the big increase in the assessment of the valuation of taxable property of the state.

The general tax levy, which this year amounts to $2,257,054 is for the benefit of the common schools, normal schools, university, free high schools, graded schools and to meet the interest on the state debt.

DEBUT OF MISS ALICE ROOSEVELT OPENS BRILLIANT SOCIAL SEASON

Thirty Years Since White House Has Seen Such a Function—Entertainments from Jan. 2 to Feb. 9.

Washington, Oct. 23.—Already Washington society is looking forward to the second of January, when Miss Alice Roosevelt is to make her debut. The event will mark the beginning of one of the most brilliant seasons the national capital has ever witnessed. It is thirty years since the white house has seen such a function; in 1871 Miss Nellie Grant was launched into the social swim from the historic east room.

From Jan. 2 till Feb. 9 there will be a continuous series of entertainments, culminating in a ball which the president will give in honor of his daughter's eighteenth birthday. Miss Isabelle Hagner, who is Mrs. Roosevelt's social secretary, finds plenty to do these days, even though the season of official mourning has not yet expired, and will not until the 19th.

Plans for the debut party have not yet taken on anything like definite form. Miss Alice is much interested, and with her mother, has arranged in a general way about gowns and friends who will be present and assist in entertaining. The president is not above taking an interest in affairs of this sort, and frequently separates himself from reciprocity and insular affairs to discuss millinery and floral decorations.

On the eventful night the white house will be filled with beautiful young women bearing the name Roosevelt. A number of friends and relatives of Miss Alice will be of the receiving party; several are themselves debutantes. There are her cousins, four in number; Miss Helen Roosevelt, daughter of J. Roosevelt Roosevelt, and granddaughter of the late William Astor; Miss Christine Kean Roosevelt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emlin Roosevelt, and niece of Senator Kean of New Jersey; the senator, by the way, is regarded as one of the richest members of the "Millionaires' Club"; Miss Elinor Roosevelt, daughter of the president's brother, Elliott, and Miss Dorothy Roosevelt, daughter of Mrs. Hilborne Roosevelt. None of these young ladies has yet been formally asked to participate in the party, but they are all expected to be when the mourning period is over, and it is permitted to talk of frivolous things.

It is still rather early to discuss the list of people to be invited. But it is not too early for ambitious parents and others to wonder whether they and their daughters are to be counted in, and to begin a little early campaigning with a view to getting cards. For "everybody who is anybody" will be there; and a lot of people who thought they were somebody are bound to be overlooked when the cards are dealt.

Not a few of the season's buds are pretty sure to begin blooming in the gorgeous east room. Mrs. U. S. Grant intends to present her granddaughter this winter; she is Miss Miriam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse D. Grant. Among others will doubtless be found Miss Florence Field, daughter of Mrs. Thomas Nelson Page, and niece of Marshall Field of Chicago; Miss Mathilde Townsend, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Townsend, and granddaughter of Thomas A. Scott, of Erie, Pa.; she is an heiress; Miss Marion Jones, daughter of the senator from Nevada, and tennis champion of America; Miss Virginia Mackay-Smith, daughter of Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Alexander Mackay-Smith, pastor of the fashionable St. John's Episcopal church; Miss Virginia is a childhood friend of Miss Roosevelt; Miss Emily Fitch, daughter of Lieutenant Commander Fitch of the navy.

The very fact that this affair will take place at the white house will give the affair an official tinge. Of course, it is primarily for the daughter, Alice, and she will have the naming of friends and schoolmates who will share in her good fortune. But in selecting the guests the blue book will figure. There are certain high officials, some with daughters of their own, who cannot be overlooked at a function of so much importance. Cabinet officials, with their wives, will all be invited; and it is probable that there will be a number of the more prominent senators and some members of the house. But the line will be drawn rather closely on the official and political people and on the diplomats. This will be rendered necessary by reason of the large number of outsiders, "unofficial" connections of the president and his family—who will of necessity be present. There are other events for the politicians and diplomats exclusively; this affair will be for the younger and gayer set. Many of the invited will come from New York, and it is likely there will be a special train or two for that purpose.

The white house is not suited to dancing, and if it is decided to have dancing, a temporary addition will have to be built.

FURROWS ON THE FARM

I have but little use for a man who has uttered with a stroke of paralysis of conscience. The conscienceless man is not the finest adjunct to the best society. Had I a less amount of conscience when a young man, I would have learned the jeweler's trade. Selling brass for gold and always finding a broken jewel in a watch that "won't go" are very mild things for a jeweler to do. A man with a paralyzed arm or leg can still live, but when the paralysis strikes his conscience—bury him.

If the fall plowing is not all done, it may interfere with corn husking to continue plowing. Making inroads in corn husking may mean a longer time at husking when snows will come to mark a halt in the proceedings. It pays to make all possible speed in getting out the corn after it is dry enough to crib. Drive the husking, or it will drive the husker later on. Get a new point on the shucking peg and a good strong arm behind it and the work will go on.

Do not let the potato digging interfere with Johnny's studies at school. I know Johnny is an excellent hand picking up potatoes, but he is also an excellent hand at picking up ideas at school. He can pick up potatoes later in life, but now is the time for getting ideas to be found only in the school room.

In Germany large quantities of cheap alcohol are made from potatoes. The emperor has offered a prize for the best stationary engine capable of using alcohol as fuel, the object being to stimulate the demand for potatoes for this purpose. There are many upright engines all over the country that consume large quantities of alcohol and they are not benefited by it. Germans are wise to encourage the use of alcohol for fuel. This year many people will prefer potatoes to alcohol and many potatoes will be kept out of the reach of some people because of alcohol and its hold upon the heads of some families. It is to be hoped that a right use can be found for alcohol and that such use should furnish the exclusive demand for it.—Homestead.

"OTHELLO" TONIGHT AT MYERS GRAND

"Othello," the play to be produced by Mr. Robert B. Mantell, on his visit to us under the management of M. W. Hanley, tonight, is certainly an "old-timer," having been often repeated, but unlike many of the modern dramas is still vigorous and serves well to demonstrate the resourceful talents of that great tragedian, Robert B. Mantell. To dilate upon the work of Mr. Mantell would only be a repetition of what the American public is fully aware and the announcement of his appearance at the Myers Grand tonight will be heralded with pleasure by theater goers in general.

Two Fires Last Night A fire started last night about 12 o'clock in the summer kitchen at the home of Alexander Galbraith at No. 9 East street South. The firemen were soon on the ground. The fire communicated to the rear of the main part and though not a large fire loss resulted there was a considerable loss by water and smoke. The owner was at a loss to explain the blaze as there had been no fire in the kitchen for some time. The loss will reach $1,200.

A fire in a car of cinders on the tracks near the waterworks called out the department last evening. The fire was soon extinguished and water from a lead of hose soon put it out.

PLAIN TALK.

To Catarrh Sufferers. Every person suffering from catarrh in its many forms knows that the common lotions, salves and douches do not cure. It is needless to argue that point or to cite cases of failure, because every victim of catarrh knows it for himself if he has tried them.

A local application, if it does anything at all, simply gives temporary relief; a wash, lotion, salve or powder cannot reach the seat of the disease which is in the blood.

The mucous membrane seeks to relieve the blood of catarrhal poison by secreting large quantities of mucus, the discharge sometimes closing up the nostrils, descending to the throat and larynx, causing an irritating cough, continual clearing of the throat, deafness, indigestion and many other disagreeable and persistent symptoms.

A remedy to really cure catarrh must be an internal treatment; a remedy which will gradually cleanse the system from catarrhal poison and remove the fever and congestion always present in the mucous membrane. The best remedies for this purpose are Eucalyptol, Sanguinaria and Hydrastin, but the difficulty has always been to get these valuable curatives combined in one palatable, convenient and efficient form.

Recently this has been accomplished and the preparation put on the market under the name of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets; they are large, pleasant tasting lozenges, so that they may be slowly dissolved in the mouth thus reaching every part of the mucous membrane and finally the stomach and intestines.

An advantage to be considered also is that Stuart's Catarrh Tablets contain no cocaine, morphine or poisonous narcotics, so often found in catarrhal powders, and the use of which often entails a habit more dangerous than the disease.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are sold by druggists at 60 cts. for full sized package and are probably the safest and most effectual catarrh cure on the market.

Came Near Dying.

"For three days and nights I suffered agony untold from an attack of cholera morbus brought on by eating cucumbers," said M. E. Lowther, clerk of the district court, Centerville, Iowa. "I thought I should surely die, and tried a dozen different medicines, but all to no purpose. I sent for a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and three doses relieved me entirely. I went to sleep and did not awake for eight hours. On awakening a few hours ago I felt so gratified that the first work I do on going to the office is to write to the manufacturers of this remedy and offer them my grateful thanks and say, 'God bless you and the splendid medicine you make.' This remedy is for sale by King's pharmacy and People's Drug Co."

All friends of the society are invited to meet with the members on this occasion.

PAYNE CALLS UPON BADGER EDITORS

Outline of Plans to Raise Funds for the Wm. McKinley Memorial at Canton, O.

Henry C. Payne, the Wisconsin member of the board of trustees of the McKinley National Memorial association posted letters yesterday to the editors and publishers of more than 400 newspapers in Wisconsin. The sending of these letters is the beginning of a formal effort to bring the patriotic aims of the association that Mr. Payne mailed to the editors before the people of the state.

Appended is a copy of the letter or of Wisconsin newspapers: "Gentlemen: You are undoubtedly aware that at the request of Mrs. McKinley and members of the late president's family, the president of the United States has named a board of trustees for the purpose of raising the necessary funds to erect a suitable monument to our late lamented president, William McKinley."

"The trustees have qualified and perfected their organization by the election of officers and now appeal to the people of the United States to contribute to the purposes for which the association will bend its energies, namely:

"First, to the erection and maintenance of a suitable memorial at Canton, O., that city having been President McKinley's home throughout his public life, and selected by him as his final resting place."

"Second, if any funds remain after providing for the memorial at Canton they will be devoted to aid in the erection of a memorial at Washington, D. C."

"Believing that the people of Wisconsin generally will desire to contribute to the purposes indicated, I appeal to you in that behalf to open subscriptions in your office and to notify people in your locality that you have done so, and to publish the names of such subscribers."

"Contributions in any amount will be gratefully received. Remittances may be made to me at Milwaukee, Wis., and they will be transmitted promptly to the treasurer. Subscribers will receive a souvenir certificate which will be worthy of preservation as evidence of participation in the work."

"It is believed that the response of the people will be so liberal that a memorial will be erected which will fittingly honor the memory of our martyred president, and emphasize their loyalty to our institutions, and their abhorrence of that spirit of lawlessness which inspired the assault upon his life, and I am sure the patriotic people of the state of Wisconsin will promptly respond for this purpose. Very truly yours,"

"H. C. PAYNE."

Regarding the sending out of these letters Mr. Payne said: "I confidently look for the hearty support of the newspapers of the state, and believe that they will give the matter early publicity, aiding the cause by placing the blanks provided upon their desks and counters, so that the people may have convenient opportunity to contribute toward the memorial fund."

Catarrh

The cause exists in the blood, in what causes inflammation of the mucous membrane.

It is therefore impossible to cure the disease by local applications.

It is positively dangerous to neglect it, because it always affects the stomach and deranges the general health, and is likely to develop into consumption.

Many have been radically and permanently cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. It cleanses the blood and has a peculiar alterative and tonic effect. R. Long, California Junction, Iowa, writes: "I had catarrh three years, lost my appetite and could not sleep. My head pained me and I felt bad all over. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and now have a good appetite, sleep well, and have no symptoms of catarrh."

I used three bottles of Mother's Friend before our last child came, which is a strong, fat and healthy boy, doing my housework up to within two hours of birth, and suffered but a few hours pains. This liniment is the grandest remedy ever made."

It relaxes the muscles and allows them to expand. It relieves morning sickness and nervousness. It puts all the organs concerned in perfect condition for the final hour, so that the actual labor is short and practically painless. Danger of rising or hard breaths is altogether avoided, and recovery is merely a matter of a few days.

LOSS BY FIRE $750,000

Packing Plant at Hammond, Ind., Partially Destroyed.

THE BLAZE SPREADS RAPIDLY.

Department, Unable to Cope with Flames. Calls Upon Chicago for Help—Engines Sent Over the Line—Four Buildings Burn Down.

Chicago, Oct. 24.—Three-quarters of a million dollars' worth of buildings and slaughtered cattle were destroyed by a fire which broke out in the extensive plant of the G. H. Hammond Packing Company at Hammond, Ind., just across the state line from Illinois. The flames were discovered a few minutes before 6 o'clock p. m., almost immediately after the big gates of the slaughter-houses had swung back to let the flood of employees sweep out toward their homes, and at midnight four great buildings had toppled over in ruins and the flames were roaring high above the dismantled walls and threatening to destroy the ten structures that remained standing. Hammond's fire department found itself utterly helpless to contend against the advance of the flames, and a message was sent to Chicago shortly before 7 o'clock imploring that assistance be sent immediately.

Chicago Sends Help.

Chief Minsham at once ordered four engine companies to proceed to the assistance of Hammond, and before 10 o'clock Chief Campion was on the ground ready to give battle to the conflagration. At midnight the following buildings had been razed by the flames: Export beef cooler, four-story brick and frame, 350 by 100 feet, containing thousands of head of slaughtered cattle. Cold storage warehouse for cattle, considerably smaller than first building. Beef slaughter-house. Sheep slaughter-house. Several persons were injured by falling walls and a stampede of cattle. They were: John Mahoney, Hammond fireman; arm broken by falling bricks; taken to hospital; Albert Buckner, Hammond, fireman; right wrist fractured by falling bricks; taken to hospital; James Stafford, stockman, Elgin, Ill.; trampled on by cattle; hip injured; Burt Williams, 16 years old; trampled on by cattle; Stanislaus Metzki, gored by steer in trying to stop stampede; shoulder bruised and cut; Herman Franks, 20 years old; trampled on by cattle. The Hammond company's various buildings are grouped close together not far from the Calumet river. Beside the slaughter-houses and warehouses, there are half a dozen frame buildings occupied as residences by officials of the company, a brick structure for the general offices. There was also a shed used for housing the private fire department connected with the establishment, but this was destroyed by the fire before the apparatus had fairly cleared the place.

Fire Is Discovered.

Thirteen hundred men or boys were employed about the plants, and the regular hour for quitting is 5:30 o'clock. The whistle had blown for them to leave their posts, and the yards and exits were packed with the human mass turning their steps homeward. A boy leaving the office building a few yards distant from the slaughter-houses caught the smell of burning wood, and looked toward the wooden cupola that surmounts the big export beef cooler building. He saw a tiny jet of flame floating from one of the small apertures that serve to admit light to the storerooms and divined that the place was on fire. His shrill cry was taken up by the hordes of men leaving the grounds, and in a few moments the alarm had spread throughout the length and breadth of the town of Hammond.

LEADERS TO TALK WITH ROOSEVELT

President Will Discuss Measures of Legislation Likely to Come Up in Next Congress.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 24.—President Roosevelt has arranged to meet the republican leaders of the senate next week for the purpose of discussing with them the measures of legislation that are likely to engage the attention of the fifty-seventh congress. His object is understood to be to find out what measures can be passed and which ones will be defeated, so that he can avoid the mistake of urging legislation that will not have the support of those senators whose influence is powerful enough to pass or defeat bills.

He has made an appointment with Senator Aldrich of Rhode Island to spend nearly all day Monday at the White House. Senator Aldrich is the most powerful and influential man in congress. Inasmuch as he came to Washington last June and warned the late President McKinley that no further reciprocity treaties would be ratified by the senate and that no amendments to the Dingley tariff law would be tolerated by the friends of that law, it is presumed that he will say as much to President Roosevelt.

Aldrich is opposed to the Hanna-Frye ship subsidy bill in the form in which it was introduced in the last congress, and presumably, in its present form. The Rhode Island senator favors an extensive reduction of war tax revenue and will doubtless urge the president to take a strong hand on the subject.

After Senator Aldrich Senator Allison of Iowa, who is known to be opposed to reciprocity and the ship subsidy bill, will spend a day with the president, giving Colonel Roosevelt advantage of his views and experience. Other republican leaders will follow from day to day. The president's message in most of its essential features will be largely a reflex of what he will learn from the senators.

"Dear Sister, is your health poor, do you feel worn out and used up, especially do you have any of the troubles which beset our sex, take my advice; let the doctors alone, try Lydia E. WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST

Generally fair tonight and Friday.

SENSIBLE SUGGESTION.

The Milwaukee Sentinel congratulates the governor on returning health, and suggests a few practical thoughts that should command his consideration. The Sentinel says:

"Should he determine to reform his reform methods, he will find it necessary, among other things, to use his best efforts to put a period to the vindictive war now being waged by his personal organs against certain individuals who are themselves members of that great respectable class—the people. He will realize that he alone is in a position to bring about a reunion of the elements of which the republican party in Wisconsin is composed, and that it is his duty, if he is still a republican, to exert himself to that end.

"These suggestions are made in the interests of harmony. No demand will be made on the governor to surrender any principle that is essentially sound. He may be called upon to make a compromise of his opinions, but not of any principle that he can demonstrate to be grounded in historical republican doctrine or necessary to the well being of the people of the state. In doing this he will be following the footsteps of the great men of all ages."

No man ever assumed the duties of executive office with a better opportunity to heal factional strife and cement party harmony than did Governor La Follette. His nomination without opposition, was the expression of an earnest desire on the part of men who differed with him, to sacrifice prejudice in the interests of party well being, and his endorsement at the polls was the seal of sincerity that was very significant.

After his inauguration, and when it became painfully apparent that dictatorship, and not conciliation, was the policy to be pursued, the conservative element of both houses, representing a large constituency, waited patiently, hoping that good judgment and wise counsel would change the attitude of the man that they were ready to endorse and help in every practical way. But they waited in vain until the close of the session, and were rewarded by a message, not of condolence, but of sharp criticism, for not endorsing methods that were erratic and revolutionary. And so, reluctantly, the olive branch was set aside, and in defense of manhood and self respect, and in the interests of the party, that was more sacred than personal ambition, the challenge, flaunted so recklessly, was taken up, and old scars irritated, until the breach that had menaced the party for years, was widened, and existing conditions resulted.

Governor La Follette, either through carelessness or by impulsive intention, permitted the opportunity to act as mediator, to pass. While conditions today are changed, the republican party remains, and the interests of the party should be recognized as vital in importance.

If during the four months of enforced quiet and freedom from care, the governor has evolved a plan for party harmony, that is feasible and practical, the republicans of the state will be glad to entertain it. The forces lined up as "half-breeds" and "stalwarts" are not spilling for a fight. They are all republicans, members of the same political family, honest in their convictions, and honestly disagreeing. If the contest is permitted to go on, and the battle is finally fought, the victory is liable to be destitute of laurels, and the wreckage will not be readily restored.

Governor La Follette is in position to bring harmony out of discord, and peace out of contention. If he possesses the wisdom to do this, he will accomplish a work for Wisconsin republicanism that will be of lasting moment, and his name as peace maker will be crowned with honor that will endure after personal ambition is lost in oblivion.

The governor's attitude and policy will be studied with interest, and he will be encouraged in every effort that looks toward party harmony and welfare.

LOOKING AHEAD.

"Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 20—Rev. W. H. Manss, pastor of the First Congregational church of this city, surprised his congregation today by reading a letter of resignation. Mr. Manss came here, three years ago from Chicago. His resignation, which is to take effect in May, 1902, will be considered at a meeting to be held Wednesday night.

Following the morning sermon the pastor held a long conference with the professors of the University of Nebraska. The result of the conference has not been divulged, but it is understood that Mr. Manss will carry out a long cherished idea of aiding in establishing Congregational houses in connection with educational institutions.

Wealthy men have signified willingness to build dormitories near state universities to be used for church homes for students of the Congregational faith. A resolution embodying this plan was introduced in the triennial Congregational council at Portland, Me., one week ago. A part of the plan is the establishment of a resident pastor.

Rev. Mr. Manss is very popular with the students of the university. Having been a member of the Yale football team, he has aided as a coach for the Nebraska team. He may establish a religious house in connection with the University of Nebraska and remain here."

The work outlined by Mr. Manss is just now engaging the attention of Congregational people in all parts of the country, and it is not only commendable, but it evidences a forecast of the future that means permanent and steady growth.

A move is already inaugurated to establish a similar building with resident pastor at Madison, in connection with the state university, and plenty of money and enthusiasm is behind the movement.

There is certainly an ample field at these centers of education for this class of home missionary work, and while other churches may regard the enterprise with more or less jealousy, it will be admitted that the Congregational church is entitled to commendation and foresight for taking possession.

The colleges and universities are undenominational, and not distinctively religious. The young people who support them are bright and intelligent, and are preparing themselves for advanced work in life. They are taught everything but theology, and many of them leave these institutions skeptical in belief, and with no well defined notions of Christianity. The Congregational church is well represented in these schools, and in extending a helping hand to its own young people, it is doing good work, and results will endorse the movement as wise and beneficial.

At just what age a boy becomes incorrigible, if he ever reaches that unenviable condition, is difficult to determine. It is fortunate for the human family that but a small percentage develop traits of character that are beyond the reach of reformation. These traits of degeneracy may be inherited, as is sometimes the case, or they may develop as the result of environment, and bad associations, as more frequently happens. In either case they represent a limited but dangerous class of citizens, and the safety and welfare of society demands that when occasion presents, they should be placed behind the bars.

Judge Fifield has been criticised for the state prison sentence recently pronounced upon the Marsden boy, not only by friends of the boy, but by people of more or less sentiment, who argue that the young man should have been sent to the reformatory at Green Bay, and given another chance.

This criticism is unjust, and the judge is entitled to the thanks of the community for placing the culprit at Waupun. The life of the young man was an open book. On every page of it was stamped the title, incorrigible. He came to the city a year ago with a bad record, and his life in Janesville had become a terror to the community. When he was sentenced to the reform school at Waupun, the management discovered very soon that he belonged to the limited class of boys that could not be reached, and when he escaped, the authorities were notified that a reform school was no place for him. Green Bay is but a reform school for first criminals, and the young men sentenced there do not belong to the incorrigible or criminal classes. Most of them are boys who, through carelessness or sudden temptation, have made a mistake. It is their first and only offense and they leave the reformatory thoroughly reformed, to take their places in the ranks of law abiding citizens.

It sometimes happens that an incorrigible boy is sentenced to the reformatory, and in that case it is simply a little longer route to the penitentiary, where he is sure to land.

The Warden at Waupun, Mr. McCoughry, is an experienced state prison man. He says that incorrigibility is not a question of age; that a boy at eighteen may be a confirmed criminal, while a man at forty is frequently a first offender, who, through drink or passion has been overcome and committed crime. It is safe to say that his judgment in the case of young Marsden will confirm the action of the court, and while he will be treated as a criminal, he will be given every opportunity to reform, and when his sentence is served he will find no trouble in establishing a good character, if so inclined.

The law is for the protection of the public. Law abiding people observe it, not because of fear, but because of wholesome regard for its wise provisions. When a man, whether young or old, persists in violating it, public safety demands that he pay the penalty.

Marsden was a reckless violator of law, and evidently beyond the reach of reform, and lacking in a desire to become a law abiding citizen. It is to be hoped that while suffering the penalty, that he will decide to lead a different life.

In selecting George H. Clements to take up the work of the late Lansing Warren, the Sentinel has made a wise choice. Mr. Clements is familiar with the state, and his long experience in newspaper work qualifies him to assume increased responsibilities. The Sentinel will continue to be progressive under the new management.

Pat Crowe is giving the Omaha authorities a bit of experience, that amounts to a burlesque. He is more uncertain than the hibernian sea, and will never be hung for telling the truth. His Iowa uncle is an Irish myth, who still resides on the Emerald Isle. Pat still has $500 to invest in a bail bond.

Every man, woman and child in the state will want to be enrolled in the list of contributors to the McKinley memorial fund. Blanks are now being prepared and the state organized under the direction of Henry C. Payne. The fund will represent a free will offering, and it is safe to say that it will be spontaneous and liberal.

Nebraska has another curio in the person of William Wallace, an attractive young woman, who for four years has masqueraded as a mail carrier, in male attire. She has not only carried the mail, but has been a smasher of female hearts, and divorce suits were of common occurrence along the route.

Mrs. Roosevelt has shocked the "400" by saying that a lady can dress well on $300 a year. She believes in sensible economy, and practices her belief. The president's family appear to be strenuous so far as heard from. It will not detract from their popularity.

Milwaukee suffered with a plague of insects the other day, that darkened the air, and reminded the inhabitants of the Egyptian plague. People were obliged to stay indoors most of the afternoon, and the favorite beverage was in active demand.

INCORRIGIBLE.

The new St. Paul passenger station is likely to become a fact in short order. It will be a good improvement for both the company and the city.

Sir Thomas Lipton has sailed for England, with a promise to return next year with a new boat, to compete for the American cup. He will be welcomed with old time fervor, and if he wins it will be through no fault of the New York Yacht club.

Making love by ocean cable must be an expensive luxury, and a little democratizing to sentiment. Mr. Dewey is equal to the expense.

PRESS COMMENT.

Beloit Free Press: The democrats have at least an "issue"—a real, live, bouncing big issue. The president has dined Booker T. Washington! Just hark to the northern echoes of the loud wallings of the southern gentlemen, sab.

Evening Wisconsin: When the crown prince of Germany comes, to America to see his father's new schooner yacht launched, he will observe how American shipbuilders do their work; but he will have to study marine architecture before he will be able to discover how they give yachts their winning speed.

Madison Journal: That none of the staid bankers, who listened to the revolutionary propositions advanced by some of the speakers at the convention this week went into convulsions is evidence that the profession is growing more tolerant, if not less conservative.

Green Bay Gazette: Phil King has followed President Adams' example and resigned as coach of the State University football team. It is dollars to doughnuts that the student body is now more anxious for a competent coach than it is for a competent president.

Appleton Post: An eastern medical society has discovered that bewhiskered gents should not be permitted to do any more milking. This is another blow at populism from an unexpected quarter.

Beloit Free Press: Senator Quarles says the government intends to set the Indians to work! The senator forgets that only "good" Indians work, and all the "good" ones are dead.

Marquette Eagle: If increased taxation is a sign of increased prosperity and wealth, this city and county must be getting rich very fast.

Oshkosh Northwestern: Mrs. Roosevelt says that any woman with common sense can dress well on $300 per year. This is hardly a comforting thought, however, for the young man who is contemplating getting married on a salary of $900.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR.

You can convince a woman, but you can never change her opinion. When a man is down on his luck he can keep on dropping forever, and it will be still further down.

Farmers are not superstitious. They would rather have the price of plain, ordinary hay $40 a ton than to have nine barns full of four-leaved clover.

There are lectures and lectures. Some people pay good money to hear one from a public platform and they would pay ten times as much not to hear one from their wives.

Women could be just as different from what they are as you can imagine and they wouldn't be any nearer to man's idea of what he thinks they are before he learns enough to know they aren't.—New York Press.

PHILOSOPHY OF THE STREET.

Men are often so constituted as to believe that money hoarded is of some use.

Judicious praise is one of the most powerful stimulants to a right-minded person.

The man who has no enemies seldom has friends but the rule does not work the other way.

If every man was permitted to have his own way the world would soon be a poor place to live.

There is not much use cultivating patience, as people will persist in testing it until it breaks, and it is about as well to let go one time as another.—Milwaukee Journal.

WOMAN'S POINT OF VIEW.

We have all met the man with such exquisitely refined artistic sensibilities that he could almost detect a false note in the trill of a bird or a tint gone wrong in the colors of the sunset.

It takes, sometimes, but a single flash from the searchlight of a great sorrow to lay bare the soul.

Love is like china, the finer it is the more readily it is broken.

What the world needs for its progressive development is not broad-mindedness so much as broad-heartedness.—Philadelphia Times.

BIG BANKING POWER

Community of Interests Between New York Institutions—Two Giant Concerns Unite.

New York, Oct. 24.—It was virtually admitted today by persons connected with the negotiations between the Chase and First National banks that the outcome of the present effort to apply the "community of interest" idea to the operation of great banks would be the building up of two giant financial concerns in this city. When the annual meeting of the First National bank directors is held in January provision will be made for the Chase bank interests, which acquired a considerable block of First National stock a week or two ago. James J. Hill and O. H. Payne, with possibly Henry W. Cannon, president of the Chase National bank, will probably be the additions to the board.

Four distinct interests controlling twenty-one banks capitalized in the aggregate at $78,425,000 have the management of $463,461,300 deposits. Their interests are the Standard Oil crowd, Morgan-Hill-Blake-Conners crowd, the syndicate represented by C. W. Morse and the National Park Bank crowd. Including trust company deposits, the aggregate deposits controlled by these interests is $850,000,000, or within $100,000,000 of equal to or over 80 per cent of the total deposits of the sixty odd clearing house banks.

TO TAX FRANCHISE OF CORPORATIONS

Springfield, Oct. 24.—The state supreme court today handed down an opinion sustaining the decision of the lower court ordering the board of equalization to assess franchises of corporations at their actual value as indicated by the market value of their securities. The decision involves franchises valued at several hundred millions of dollars.

Brigands Have a Busy Day.

Rome, Oct. 24.—Seven brigands held up a diligence that was proceeding to Sassari, in Sardinia, with a registered mail bag. Shots were exchanged and two carabinieri who were escorting the diligence were wounded, while a woman passenger was killed. The robbers looted the diligence, but in the scuffle the postal clerk escaped with the registered letters.

Odessa, Oct. 24.—An armed band boarded a train near Batoum, murdered three officials, and looted the passengers of valuables.

Fire at French Lick Hotel.

French Lick, Ind., Oct. 24.—Fire broke out in the bath department of the French Lick Springs hotel at 8:30 and for a time it looked as if the entire building, containing about 300 guests, would be destroyed. All escaped in the midst of great excitement. The fire was put under control by the hotel fire department and at 10 o'clock the guests were back in their rooms. The loss is between $10,000 and $12,000.

Killed in Train Wreck.

Michigan, N. D., Oct. 24.—Passenger train No. 4, the east-bound flyer on the Great Northern, was run into by a helper engine. The fireman on the helper engine was killed and a brakeman lost both legs. The sleeping car porter was seriously injured. The accident occurred two and a half miles east of Petersburg at 4 o'clock this morning. None of the passengers were injured so far as can be learned.

Send Flour to Africa.

New York, Oct. 24.—Almost 75,000 bags of flour have just been shipped to South Africa by Produce Exchange brokers for the British army. It is said also that about 1,000,000 bushels of oats, half of which have been cleared from this port, have been ordered for consumption in South Africa.

Washington, Oct. 24.—President Roosevelt arrived at ten thirty o'clock this morning from New Haven. Very few people were at the depot to greet him.

CHICAGO TO LOSE DR. HENSON

Well Known Divine to Be Given Call to Brooklyn Baptist Church Chicago, Oct. 24.—Chicago and the First Baptist church are likely to lose the Rev. Dr. F. S. Henson, who has been pastor here for twenty years. A formal call is expected to be offered him within two weeks by the Hanson Place Baptist church of Brooklyn. It is expected that Dr. Henson will say good-bye to his Chicago congregation soon after January 1.

BADGER TOBACCO DEALERS MEETING

ABOUT FIFTY PROMINENT MEN IN CITY TODAY.

Visiting Merchants Came from All Parts of the State in Response to an Invitation from the Local Dealers to Talk Over the Tobacco Question.

About fifty of the prominent tobacco dealers of the state were the guests of the Leaf Tobacco Merchants' association of this city at the Grand Hotel this afternoon. The visiting merchants came from all parts of the state in response to invitations issued last week.

They were met at the depot by a reception committee consisting of N. L. Carle, John Soultman and A. L. McIntosh and escorted to the hotel where an informal reception was held for an hour preceding the dinner hour.

Promptly at 1:30 o'clock the guests and about a dozen local leaf tobacco dealers were ushered into the dining room where an elegant dinner awaited them. The menu was elaborate and the dinner was served in six courses, the service by the efficient dining room force, under the personal supervision of Landlord J. F. Sweeney being faultless. The guests paid the highest possible compliment to the dinner by lingering over it, over an hour and a half passing by in the enjoyment of the feast of good things.

Shortly after three o'clock the tables were cleared and a meeting was held in the dining room for the informal discussion of general interests. Perry Wilder, of Evansville was chosen chairman and F. W. Coon of Edgerton was requested to serve as secretary of the meeting to which the remainder of the afternoon was devoted.

The Janesville association is the only local organization of tobacco merchants in the state outside of Milwaukee. The object of the local organization is to secure the better handling of the leaf both by growers and dealers and to protect the common interests of all who are connected with the growth or sale of tobacco. The object of today's meeting was for much of the same purpose on larger lines and was devoted largely to the discussion of the best ways to secure better handling of the leaf throughout the state. Another object is to form a state organization of some kind that will be of tobacco of some kind that will be able to guard the interests of tobacco men against legislation in regard to tariff that would be injurious to the dealers of this country.

The officers of the local association, which was the host of the afternoon and gave the visitors a cordial welcome and royal entertainment, are: L. B. Carle, president; Sanford Soverhill, president; E. M. Calkins, secretary and treasurer.

HIS INJURIES WORTH $15,000

Fred Hessenauer Wants $15,000 Damages from A. M. Valentine of This City.

Fred Hessenauer, of this city, has placed in the hands of Attorney Chas. Dunn a damage suit against A. M. Valentine for $15,000.

Mr. Hessenauer alleges that on December 5, 1900 his injuries were received by the breaking through and falling into a cesspool or catchbasin situated at Mr. Valentine's house, the cover to which cesspool or catchbasin was so negligently constructed and was, through fault and negligence in such want of repair and so decayed as to render the same unsafe, unsound and dangerous.

Mr. Hessenauer alleges that he received severe personal injuries, to-wit: a rupture of hernia on the left side, also such injuries caused atrophy or shrinking of the muscles on the left side of the back and other manifestations of disease.

The convention was a splendid one, the floor work being exemplified by the Milton corps which was also inspected by Mrs. Ellen P. Weatherby of Shullsburg. The ladies of the Milton corps entertained their visitors most royally during their stay, serving both dinner and supper for them. The Janesville ladies returned home delighted with their visit.

HOSPITALITY AT THE CONRAD HOME

Local Feminine Society Enjoying an Elegant Reception at 102 Park Place This Afternoon.

Feminine society folk are enjoying one of the most elegant receptions ever given in the city this afternoon; and not until the shades of night have fallen will the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Conrad, 102 Park Place, cease to be the city's center of hospitality. The hostesses of the afternoon are Mrs. Conrad and her sister, Miss Mary Barker, and they entertained their lady friends handsomely and royally. Between three and four hundred invitations were issued and there were but few regrets.

Never has this city seen more elaborate or handsome floral decorations than those which made the spacious home a perfect bower of beauty. In the hall, masses of autumn foliage in brilliant red, branches of maple leaves and trailing tangles of woodbine, concealed the stair-case from view and were used effectively in other parts of the large room.

The parlor in which the hostesses received their guests, had a border of autumn leaves above the window nook and the floral decorations were American Beauty roses. Two great bunches of the stately, aristocratic flowers lent both their glorious beauty and their rich perfume for the occasion and being magnificent specimens of this choice variety of roses, they won many expressions of delight and admiration from the guests.

VALUABLE FARMING LANDS

L. D. Hinkley, Formerly of Janesville, Calls on Local Friends

L. D. Hinkley, a former resident of Janesville, was in the city this week representing the Skidmore Land Company, with offices at 224-226 Grand avenue, Milwaukee.

Their lands are chiefly located in Marinette County, Wisconsin, in the vicinity of Ellis Junction and consist of eighty thousand acres of partly cut over place and hard wood timber. Marinette and Menominee, cities of 18,000, are but a short distance.

Since this country was first inhabited by lumbermen there has as yet never been a drouth and even this year when nearly the whole continent has suffered from lack of rain fall, this locality has had sufficient moisture to produce the most luxuriant crops of all descriptions. The tame grasses seem almost indigenous. All vegetables thrive like in a cultivated garden. All the cereals yield plentifully; even corn there this year is a full crop. Phenomenal stories are told of the big yields this year of short crops, of all varieties of products.

These lands are now offered to settlers in tracts of from 40 to 160 acres at from $7.50 to $10 per acre. One-fourth down, balance long time.

Mr. Hinkley is now appointing agents to locate settlers on these lands. The usual commissions are paid and liberal terms given. Agricultural lands all over the United States are having a substantial boom and those who buy first will be best off. It is only a few short years ago that the whole country west of Lake Michigan was a wilderness, and it is easy to figure how long cheap lands will last.

Mr. Hinkley expects to soon open office headquarters here. All correspondence to the Milwaukee office will be well cared for.
